For all hours worked and no less than the State minimum wage
Are you eligible for overtime? You are owed 1.5 times your hourly rate of pay for hours worked over 40 hours/week.
Are you working on a publicly funded construction project, such as a school? The contractor must pay you the prevailing wage for a public works job.
Are you an independent contractor? You could be misclassified, and denied the right to unemployment, disability, family leave, minimum wage, equal pay and more.

Paid Sick Time is the Law:
You have the right to care for yourself and family
• Employers must provide 1 hour of paid sick leave for every 30 hours you work, up to 40 hours a year.
• It’s against the law for employers to retaliate against you for using your sick leave.
• Use Paid Sick Leave for physical or mental health, to cope with sexual or domestic violence, your child’s school appointments and more.
